Private Fortunes and Public Distress.

In this country to-day there is one American family whose private fortunes amount to $274,000,000, or considerably more than one-half the valuation of the great state of Iowa. There are five citizens whose fortunes average $60,000,000 each; 50 with $10,000,000; 100 with $5,000,000; 200, with $3,000,000, and there are millionaires almost without number. Less than 2,000 persons own twice as much as all the money in the country, to say nothing of the many millions more that they control. Two thousand capitalists already own more than all the rest of our 65,000,000 of population.

With these figures on one side of them, and a million idle men looking for work on the other, what has congress been doing? It has been dickering and trading over a mere question of taxation, in the midst of a scramble of selfish men for the loaves and fishes.

So much for the great question of equitable distribution. Now let us look at the land question. Mr. Vanderbilt "owns" 2,000,000 acres of land. Mr. Disston, of Pennsylvania, boasts of his 4,000,000 broad acres. The Schenley estate owns 2,000 acres within the cities of Pittsburgh and Allegheny. The California millionaire Murphy owns an area of land bigger than the whole state of Massachusetts. Foreign noblemen, who owe no allegiance to this country, are permanently absentee landlords, and spend all their money abroad, own 21,000,000 acres of land in this country, or more than the entire area of Ireland. Lord Scully, of Ireland, owns 90,000 acres of farming land in Illinois, which he rents out in small parcels to tenant farmers, and pockets his annual $200,000 in rents to spent abroad.

Now, while over one-half the people of this country are landless, what has congress ever done with the land question? Since 1861 it has given 181,000,000 acres of the

The two old frauds, both of whom are "ashamed of Kansas," have joined teams against the old farmer, who is proud of Kansas, but he is in the middle of the road, and will keep off the grass, and Victory's sun will rise and shine most gloriously, the morning after election.

people's land to railroads, of which the Illinois Central alone got a subsidy of 2,500,000, a good part of which has been put into house lots, whereby to extort rent and profits from the landless and houseless.—Donahoe's Magazine for July.
